ASK DR. AZIZZADEH

WHAT IS YOUR APPROACH TO FACIAL REJUVENATION?

I examine the face and figure out how we can recreate a more youthful shape while still making sure the patient looks appropriate for their age. That means a natural-looking and elegant appearance that never looks artificial.

WHAT IS YOUR PRACTICE LIKE?

We just developed a state-of-the-art facial plastic surgery center in the heart of Beverly Hills. Everything is patient centric from the Zen environment and cutting-edge technology, lasers and 3-D imaging to computer access for patients in the rooms.

YOU OFTEN REFER TO FACIAL REJUVENATION AS A FOUR-DIMENSIONAL PROCESS. PLEASE EXPLAIN.

It is a four-dimensional process when we take into account lifting and shaping the face with surgery, restoring lost volume with injectable fillers, reducing the appearance of fine lines with neuromodulators like Botox® and Dysport®, and considering time and how the face will continue to change and age after the procedure.

WHAT NEW ADVANCEMENT ARE YOU USING AT YOUR PRACTICE?

I've been using micro-blunt cannulas for injectable filler treatments. In my experience, they have reduced the risk of bruising tremendously and improved patient comfort. I am also now combining Ulthera skin tightening and Sculptra® Aesthetic, which we have found work synergistically to restore a youthful appearance without surgery.

Author of 4 medical books and a best-selling consumer book

EYE OPENER
Unhappy with the worn, tired appearance of her eye area, this 48-year-old patient sought advice from Dr. Azizzadeh. "We decided that blepharoplasty would help open up her eyes while multilevel fat grafting would restore volume where she needed it," Dr. Azizzadeh says.

FACIAL SHAPER
Concerned with the sagging skin in her lower face and neck that significantly aged her appearance, this 55-year-old patient wanted a more youthful look. "After undergoing a facelift and necklift, her profile is noticeably lifted and smoother," Dr. Azizzadeh says. "Observe the firmer looking skin and new definition clearly visible along her chin, jawline and neckline. She couldn't be happier with her results."

"I've spent my entire career focused on facial aesthetics"

ABOUT DR. AZIZZADEH

WHAT ACHIEVEMENTS ARE YOU PROUD OF?
I trained at Harvard Medical School for my fellowship in facial plastic and reconstructive surgery, I've written five books, have been on The Oprah Winfrey Show, The Doctors and have patients travel from all over the world to see me. Most importantly, I am proud of my high patient satisfaction.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE MOST ABOUT YOUR JOB?
I have a unique job—where interpersonal connections, art and science intersect. I love being at the cutting edge while also caring for patients. I think about how I would treat my patients if they were members of my own family. That guides me.
